PRODUCTIVE

Prioritize - Make it Happen

1. Get Organized

Make a Plan & Follow It

- Map it out! A monthly overview of what you want to achieve. There are many systems like Evernote, Onenote, etc., that help you plan your day.
- Break it up into weeks.
- Finally, break it down to smaller action points for each day of the week.

PERFECT!

2. Create a Routine

Review your plan at the end of each day.

- There will be days when your routine is totally interrupted, and that's okay, it happens.
- Reallocate your tasks, reset your schedule and get back on track.

AWESOME!

3. Prioritize

- Work on your highest priorities first.
- A bunch of small easy tasks can quickly fill up your entire day.
- When you work on priorities, you accomplish results.
- And when you see your goals come together, you feel encouraged.

AMAZING!

Manage Your Time

It's amazing how often we give away our personal power, and we can do so without noticing or knowing.

"Our greatest fulfillment lies in giving ourselves to others".

- Henri J.M. Nouwen.

This is so true! It's a beautiful trait to help others, and we all need support and guidance from time to time. And when you help others, the exchange can often move you a step closer to achieving your own goals. What comes around goes around, so it's given that you want to be there to give back to those you care about.

But when this happens too often, you can fall behind on your own agenda, goals and responsibilities. It's a balance, but first of all, be mindful to attend to our own business, and this way you will stay within integrity with yourself.
